Many Attend Demonstration of First Aid

Kenoshans Help Antioch Rescue Squad Put on Fine Program

Interested visitors from many nearby towns, including Lake Forest, Waukegan, Libertyville, Gurnee and Lake Villa, were among the 300 persons who saw a fine demonstration of advanced Red Cross life saving and first aid methods put on in the Antioch High School gymnasium Monday evening by the Antioch and Kenosha rescue squads.

A surprise feature of the program was the presenting of honors to the Antioch squad members.

Mayor George B. Bartlett, expressing the appreciation of Antioch citizens to the members of the squad, voiced the pride of the community in the fact that it has the only authorized Red Cross life saving unit with advanced training in the county. He pointed out that the squad is dedicated to the purpose of saving life and relieving distress.

He then made an official presentation to Capt. L. D. Powles, Lieut. Herman Holbek and Squadman Herman Rosing of American Red Cross advanced training certificates.

On behalf of the village of Antioch, he presented to the squad a complete first aid kit, containing all of the necessary equipment for emergency treatment of wounds, cuts, lacerations, and burns, and for the care of victims of near drowning, asphyxiation and electrical shock, but compact enough to be carried in an automobile.

Chief James Stearns of the Antioch fire department, with which the squad is affiliated, praised the work done by the men in emergency cases and in general first aid during the past few months, and outlined the manner in which the squad grew out of emergency work done by the fire department.

Gatley Presents Badges

Chief Howard Gatley of the Kenosha squad, with which the Antioch men received their training, praised their co-operation and the fine spirit they have shown.

He conferred on them the further honor of officially designating them as members of the Kenosha squad, and presented to each a regulation badge as worn by Kenosha squad members. Chief Stearns, as ex-officio head of the squad, was also presented a badge.

In illustration of the manner in which the Antioch men have put their training to use, Chief Gatley cited two instances of emergency treatment in which they took part. On Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, he informed his listeners, Rosing and Holbek were called to Wilmet, where a Chicago youth had suffered a fracture of the arm.

Game Friday to Conclude H. S. '39-'40 Season

Northbrook Will Be Final Basketball Opponent for Sequoits

Bringing to a close the Sequoits' 1939-40 basketball season will be an encounter with Northbrook, in the Antioch High school gymnasium Friday evening. Two games will be on the program, the first starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Paced by Bill Thompson, Antioch guard, the fighting Sequoits hit their stride in the final period Tuesday evening to defeat the Wilmet quintet on their own floor, 28-18.

The Sequoits, leading by but three points at the final period, got underway as Thompson tallied six points while other members of the Antioch team ran up six additional ones. Thompson was high scorer for Antioch with 18 points, and Hawkins second with 5.

The Antioch Juniors easily upset the Wilmet bantams by a 24-10 score. Barnstable and Hogan were high scorers with 8 points each.

Lose to Waukegan, Hebron Friday evening the Sequoits were trounced by a strong Waukegan five, 28-10. They met with a second reverse Saturday evening, when the superb Hebron quintet added a twentieth straight victory to their record for the season, defeating Antioch 31-18.

More Donations for Rescue Truck are Being Received

Enthusiastic Support Is Meeting Campaign for Funds

A number of further donations to the fund for the purchase of a motor truck for the Antioch rescue squad were announced this morning by Fire Chief James Stearns, who is acting as chairman of the fund committee.

They include:

Ed Turner	$1.00
Dr. A. P. Bratrude	5.00
R. G. Holtz	5.00
Walter I. Scott	5.00
Dr. G. W. Jensen	5.00
S. E. Pollock	2.00
W. E. Drom	1.00
S. H. Reeves	5.00
Paul Volbrecht	1.00
Previously acknowledged	161.00
Total	$191.00

In addition to this amount, a considerable sum has been pledged by other persons, and it is expected that payment on some of the pledges can shortly be added to the sum announced. "This amount received so far constitutes a splendid start," Chief Stearns states. "We expect to receive a considerable increase in donations during the coming weeks."

The truck will be used by the Antioch rescue squad, which answers all emergency calls. At the present time the squad is obliged to carry equipment in the private cars of its members. A rescue truck would provide a centralized location for all equipment, without the necessity for loading or unloading it, and would also permit the carrying of a greater amount of equipment.

Channel Lake School Lunches Pay Own Way

Additional Equipment Will Be Bought by Community Club

The hot lunch project being carried on for children of the Channel Lake school under the auspices of the Channel Lake Community club is not only proving worthwhile, but is paying its own way, it was revealed in a meeting of the club Monday evening at the schoolhouse. About forty-five children are being served the lunches, it was stated.

Following reports of the committee in charge of the hot lunches that hot running water and a two-burner auxiliary gas plate would prove helpful in the preparation of the food, the club voted to sponsor the purchase of a heater and a gas plate.

The club charter which has been granted by the state of Illinois and recorded in Lake county offices at Waukegan, was read by Mrs. Harold Eltherington. The charter is to be framed and hung in the school auditorium.

Wolfe Named President

Edward Wolfe was elected president of the club to succeed Vernon Rogers, during the business session; L. H. Rogers was chosen vice-president, succeeding Thomas Runyard, Nicholas Zeien was re-elected treasurer, and Mrs. Martin Busscher was elected publicity chairman to succeed Mrs. Douglas McGlynn.

A secretary, a community activities chairman and a child welfare chairman are to be appointed by the president and will serve on the executive board of the club.

Formal installation of the new officers will take place on Monday evening, March 11.

Coming events on the club calendar include a party to be held at the school Thursday evening, Feb. 29, at 8 p. m. Proceeds will be applied toward the fund for the purchase of the heater and gas plate.

The school nurse who visited the school in the fall and conducted tests of the children's eyes and ears paid a return visit recently to check up on improvements which have been made, it was announced by Mrs. Russell Barnstable, child welfare chairman. The check-up tests revealed that two children are in need of eye-glasses, she stated.

Winter Sport Program Elicits Magazine Tribute

American Lumberman Has Article on Toboggan Slide at Antioch

Among the many evidences of growing public interest in the possibilities of Antioch and the surrounding lakes territory as a winter resort region is a feature article in the American Lumberman magazine for Feb. 10.

Opening paragraphs in the article are as follows:

"The community spirit of co-operation at Antioch, Lake County, Ill., has brought about some needed development in winter sports, whereby the many thousands that visit the community during the summer may return to enjoy themselves during the winter season. Such community-spirited people as the Antioch Lumber and Coal Co.; Ben R. Burke, building contractor; R. H. Childers, high school coach; Carl Barthel, Antioch highway commissioner, and members of the Antioch fire department and American Legion, are happy to pass on to other communities a report of what they accomplished on a volunteer basis, in order to promote winter sports, in the building of a toboggan slide on the east shore of Lake Antioch.

"The lumber used in building the Antioch slide was donated by the Antioch Lumber & Coal Co., whose interest in community affairs is much appreciated. Here as in many other communities the lumbermen are leaders in community co-operation.

Quotes from "News"

"An interesting account of this enterprise, which has attracted wide attention, appeared in the Antioch News of Jan. 25, from which we take the following facts:

A description of the slide and of winter resort activity at Antioch is appended.

The article is illustrated with a photograph of the dedication of the completed slide, covering one-third page of the magazine.

It pays tribute to the civic interest shown by the Antioch firemen, who iced the slide; to H. A. Smith, as a business leader supporting the project; to the Rev. F. M. Flaherty, who gave permission for use of some of the property, and to various persons who helped in the project.

Acknowledgements for help given in assembling material for the article are given to Cletus Vos of the Antioch Lumber and Coal company; John L. Horan, of the Antioch fire department, and the Dickey studio.

The meeting was also open to grade and high school pupils, and to other persons interested in attending.

Firemen Receive Their New Uniforms

Outfits Follow Regulation Chicago Firemen Style

With the arrival of 28 new uniforms early this week Antioch firemen will be able to present a smart appearance whenever their duties call them before the public.

The new uniforms are in the regulation Chicago firemen's style. They are the regular firemen's blue in color, with three-button double breasted coats.

While the number purchased at the present time does not outfit the entire personnel, it is sufficient to provide for a material gain in the smartness of the fire department's appearance.

At a meeting of the Antioch firemen Tuesday evening in the station, the department voted to sponsor a wrestling show April 5 for the benefit of the uniform fund.

A luncheon was served after the meeting.

Tardy Motorists to be Rounded up by State Police

The State automobile department has announced that an intensive drive against motorists who have not yet bought their 1940 licenses was to open throughout Illinois on Monday.

"The duty of enforcement rests with all law enforcement officers and this office has requested their co-operation in strict observance of the law. The investigators under the Secretary of State, and the state highway police will give all of their aid to the drive."

Founder's Week Will Be Observed By A&P Stores

The founder of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, George Huntington Hartford, who created modern retailing method of buying direct and straightline, mass distribution, will be honored by all A & P stores during Founder's Week, February 12-19, the company announced here today.

Retailing principles established by Mr. Hartford when he opened the first red-fronted A & P store in 1859, company officials pointed out, are used today by the countless chain and independent merchants as the means of providing greater savings to consumers.

A young man from Maine, Mr. Hartford entered the retailing field in New York City, where he was impressed by the prevailing high price of tea, A&P executives said. He believed that by purchasing tea direct, eliminating the many handling charges and middlemen's profits and retailing through his own store, he could materially reduce the price from the prevailing scale of a dollar or more per pound.

During Founder's Week, all A & P stores will lay special emphasis on tea, as their original stock in trade, and coffee, another item of which the company is now the world's largest retailer, executives of the food chain declared.

Sign Leases for Operating Antioch Dairy

Production Will Be Resumed This Week-end, Announcement

Leases permitting the resumption of business at the Antioch Dairy have been arranged, it was announced today by William Schultz, acting president of the producers who market milk through the dairy. Operations are expected to be resumed the latter part of this week.

The leases have been arranged with William Hattendorf, receiver appointed by Circuit Judge Ralph Dady for the property, which is now in foreclosure. Samuel Lerner, operator of a Grade A dairy at Oregon, Wis., and of another plant at Stoughton, Wis., is reported to be leasing the plant.

While the exact terms of the lease have not been announced, it is stated that they represent a compromise between those asked by the farmers and those originally offered by the receiver.

Co-operative Plans

Part of the equipment at the dairy is owned by the producers patronizing it, and a co-operative arrangement for its operation is being worked out.

The plant normally does a business amounting to about $8,000 a month, and it is hoped by the producers that this may eventually be increased.

The plant supplies grade-A milk for the Chicago market. Herds and farms from which it receives the milk are subject to rigid inspection tests, both as to the quality of their product and the sanitary condition under which it is produced.

Winter Sports Continue To Hold Interest

Several Thousand Visitors Spend Week-end in Lakes Region

As word of Antioch's facilities for the enjoyment of winter sports spreads, more and more persons seem to be flocking to this region to enjoy tobogganing, skiing and other outdoor recreations while the season lasts.

Throngs were to be seen at the new toboggan slide at Lake Antioch during the week-end. Others enjoyed skiing there, or reveling in being towed around the lake on skis, behind automobiles.

Many of them came from other communities, a large number having been attracted here from Chicago by news of the winter fun to be had "out at the lakes."

Resorts Draw Many

At the resorts, too, this year, a greater interest in winter sports than has ever been observed before has been manifested by patrons during the past few weeks. Gradually the idea seems to be getting around that winter-time recreation is "real fun"—especially when it is so easily accessible by well-kept up highways leading to the lakes region from nearby cities.

A record crowd was reported by Steitz' place on Bluff lake, where the toboggan slide got some heavy wear. At Bob Hardman's also, on Bluff lake, tobogganing proved popular.

What's Ahead

Since 1900, six inventions profoundly influenced the lives of millions of people—the telephone, automobile, airplane, motion pictures, rayon and radio. They not only represent great accumulations of capital and give employment to millions, but they have had social influence so vast as to be impossible to calculate.

What will the next third of a century bring forth? What new industries are even now coming into being? During the first third of this century 1,330,000 patents were issued in the United States, and it is almost certain that during the next thirty years out of more than this number of patents there will be some inventions that will rank in importance with the six mentioned here.

It is safe to predict that during the next third of a century industries now in their infancy, or not yet born, will provide jobs that do not exist today for millions of workers. . . . —From "The Vagabond."

If there is one place where clear thinking on the part of the average citizen is needed, it's in the matter of seeing that the fundamentals of our American system—our representative democracy, our system of private enterprise, and the various freedoms we enjoy—are maintained. Under the guise of "reform," these are often attacked by those who would like to see the whole American way of life scrapped.

In this connection, a sentence from Irvin S. Cobb, wise American writer, puts the case with a great deal of clarity. "It should not be necessary," he observes, "to tear down the temple of our forefathers merely to kill a few cockroaches in the basement."

Genuine Americans should find Mr. Cobb's statement worth remembering.

Why Ape the Dictators?

The proposal, made by a high Federal official, that the President be given sweeping dictatorial powers in time of "war emergency" has met with the opposition of a large number of America's newspapers, Republican and Democratic alike.

The Portland Oregonian made a typical comment when it said: "It is an unexplainable phenomenon that there are free-born Americans in important positions who would have us prepare for war by adopting the theories of government that are responsible for the present war—theories which have not yet proved an asset in the winning of a war, but which in Russia have produced an amazing and disastrous military incompetence."

One wonders just what grounds any official has for talking about imminent emergency. The recent polls show that the American people are as determined to keep neutral as they were when hostilities abroad began. The pronouncements of most officials, including the President, indicate a deep determination to keep out of foreign war, and to never again send an A. E. F. to other lands.

To give any executive of government the power to commandeer factories, ships, supplies, and to take those other steps which we so properly associate with dictatorships, not democracy, is to give hostages to the enemy. It would fasten upon our own land those ruthless shackles which so cruelly bind millions of people in lands where all liberties have been destroyed by the State. Call this socialism, communism, or what you will—irrespective of the name employed, the extension of the power of unrestrained officialism over the individual must inevitably mean the death of democracy and freedom and our Constitutional form of government.

Perhaps the most vital quality the American people must possess today is calmness—the ability to rationally and coolly think things through. If we give way to hysteria and to the bland arguments of those who cry "emergency" whenever opposition to their plans appears, our future as a nation and as a free people will be dark. The job of all Americans is to really keep democracy alive at home.

GOOD CITIZENS AND GOOD NEIGHBORS

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 22:15-22, 34-40
GOLDEN TEXT—Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.—Matthew 22:39.

Character is determined by what a man is in his heart, not by the profession of his lips. This is eminently true in spiritual matters, for we know that it is not by much testifying, hymn singing, or even by church attendance that a man proves himself to be a Christian. The question is, Is his heart right with God? It is also true in his relation to his country. Patriotism is not a matter of speech-making and flag-waving, but an inward devotion to the good of the nation. Most assuredly it is also true that being a good neighbor is not something accomplished by smooth talk or the shedding of a few tears; it is a matter of that right attitude toward our neighbor, whether he be the man next door or in China, which results in a sacrificial effort to serve and help him.

I. A Right Attitude Toward God (vv. 21, 37-39).

No man will make any real progress in the direction of being either a good citizen or a good neighbor until he has a right attitude toward God.

The questions which were asked of our Lord, and which brought forth such precious teaching from Him, were not asked in good will nor with a desire to grieve God, but rather to entrap or snare the Lord and thus give occasion for denouncing Him. Had the Pharisees, Sadducees, and Herodians (the ritualists, the rationalists, and politicians of our Lord's day) really known God and Jesus Christ, His Son, their problems of patriotism and neighborliness would have been solved in the light of His Word and, what is perhaps even more important, in His spirit.

Is not the crying need of our world today, gone mad as it has with misdirected and perverted patriotic fervor and forgetting all responsibilities of good neighborliness, that it should hear and heed the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ?

II. A Right Attitude Toward Government (vv. 15-22).

The subtle hypocrisy of the question in verse 17 lay in the fact that these leaders were not interested in knowing the truth, but only wanted to make Jesus out either to be disloyal to His own people because He advocated paying tribute, or a traitor to Caesar because He advised rebellion against taxation. They coated their clever bait with unctuous flattery, a device which is still common among those who would mislead God's people. Observe that even though they did not believe what they said, they did speak the truth about the Lord Jesus (v. 16).

His answer is complete, final, and unanswerable. He has that kind of an answer to every honest question of man. In this case He clearly states that one who lives under an established government, enjoying its protection, using its money in trade, and so forth, is to be loyal to every proper obligation to that government. God and the things of God must come first, but a right attitude toward God will reveal itself in a proper attitude toward government.

Why does not some nation realize that the answer to destructive political and social theories is—win the destructive agitator to a living faith in Christ and he will become your strongest force for God and country. The real answer to communism (and every other anti-Americanism) is Christ.

III. A Right Attitude Toward Our Neighbor (vv. 34-40).

We have talked a good deal of late about being good neighbors, and certainly everyone should do everything possible to encourage the good neighbor policy in his own community and throughout the earth. But why does not the good neighbor policy work? Read the parallel passage in Luke and you will see how man tries to dodge his responsibility. See Luke 10:29 and observe the answer of Jesus in Luke 10:30-37.

A good neighbor is not one who is seeking some kind of "You favor me and I'll favor you" arrangement. He does not see the barriers of race, creed, or color. He is ready to help anyone, anywhere, at any cost. It is recognized that only the man who loves God with all his heart will be able thus to love his neighbor as himself.

The world does not so much need treatises on neighborliness as the winning of men and women to faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, and thus to a whole-hearted love for God which will inevitably express itself in a love for his neighbor. When this comes to pass, we shall have true neighborliness in the world. Let us send the gospel to all nations, that they may become first of all good Christians, then good citizens, and good neighbors.

What's Ahead

Since 1900, six inventions profoundly influenced the lives of millions of people—the telephone, automobile, airplane, motion pictures, rayon and radio. They not only represent great accumulations of capital and give employment to millions, but they have had social influence so vast as to be impossible to calculate.

What will the next third of a century bring forth? What new industries are even now coming into being? During the first third of this century 1,330,000 patents were issued in the United States, and it is almost certain that during the next thirty years out of more than this number of patents there will be some inventions that will rank in importance with the six mentioned here.

It is safe to predict that during the next third of a century industries now in their infancy, or not yet born, will provide jobs that do not exist today for millions of workers. . . . —From "The Vagabond."

If there is one place where clear thinking on the part of the average citizen is needed, it's in the matter of seeing that the fundamentals of our American system—our representative democracy, our system of private enterprise, and the various freedoms we enjoy—are maintained. Under the guise of "reform," these are often attacked by those who would like to see the whole American way of life scrapped.

In this connection, a sentence from Irvin S. Cobb, wise American writer, puts the case with a great deal of clarity. "It should not be necessary," he observes, "to tear down the temple of our forefathers merely to kill a few cockroaches in the basement."

Genuine Americans should find Mr. Cobb's statement worth remembering.

Why Ape the Dictators?

The proposal, made by a high Federal official, that the President be given sweeping dictatorial powers in time of "war emergency" has met with the opposition of a large number of America's newspapers, Republican and Democratic alike.

The Portland Oregonian made a typical comment when it said: "It is an unexplainable phenomenon that there are free-born Americans in important positions who would have us prepare for war by adopting the theories of government that are responsible for the present war—theories which have not yet proved an asset in the winning of a war, but which in Russia have produced an amazing and disastrous military incompetence."

One wonders just what grounds any official has for talking about imminent emergency. The recent polls show that the American people are as determined to keep neutral as they were when hostilities abroad began. The pronouncements of most officials, including the President, indicate a deep determination to keep out of foreign war, and to never again send an A. E. F. to other lands.

To give any executive of government the power to commandeer factories, ships, supplies, and to take those other steps which we so properly associate with dictatorships, not democracy, is to give hostages to the enemy. It would fasten upon our own land those ruthless shackles which so cruelly bind millions of people in lands where all liberties have been destroyed by the State. Call this socialism, communism, or what you will—irrespective of the name employed, the extension of the power of unrestrained officialism over the individual must inevitably mean the death of democracy and freedom and our Constitutional form of government.

Perhaps the most vital quality the American people must possess today is calmness—the ability to rationally and coolly think things through. If we give way to hysteria and to the bland arguments of those who cry "emergency" whenever opposition to their plans appears, our future as a nation and as a free people will be dark. The job of all Americans is to really keep democracy alive at home.

GOOD CITIZENS AND GOOD NEIGHBORS

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 22:15-22, 34-40
GOLDEN TEXT—Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.—Matthew 22:39.

Character is determined by what a man is in his heart, not by the profession of his lips. This is eminently true in spiritual matters, for we know that it is not by much testifying, hymn singing, or even by church attendance that a man proves himself to be a Christian. The question is, is his heart right with God? It is also true in his relation to his country. Patriotism is not a matter of speech-making and flag-waving, but an inward devotion to the good of the nation. Most assuredly it is also true that being a good neighbor is not something accomplished by smooth talk or the shedding of a few tears; it is a matter of that right attitude toward our neighbor, whether he be the man next door or in China, which results in a sacrificial effort to serve and help him.

I. A Right Attitude Toward God (vv. 21, 37-39).

No man will make any real progress in the direction of being either a good citizen or a good neighbor until he has a right attitude toward God.

The questions which were asked of our Lord, and which brought forth such precious teaching from Him, were not asked in good will nor with a desire to glorify God, but rather to entrap or snare the Lord and thus give occasion for denouncing Him. Had the Pharisees, Sadducees, and Herodians (the ritualists, the rationalists, and politicians of our Lord's day) really known God and Jesus Christ, His Son, their problems of patriotism and neighborliness would have been solved in the light of His Word and, what is perhaps even more important, in His spirit.

Is not the crying need of our world today, gone mad as it has with misdirected and perverted patriotic fervor and forgetting all responsibilities of good neighborliness, that it should hear and heed the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ?

II. A Right Attitude Toward Government (vv. 15-22).

The subtle hypocrisy of the question in verse 17 lay in the fact that these leaders were not interested in knowing the truth, but only wanted to make Jesus out either to be disloyal to His own people because He advocated paying tribute, or a traitor to Caesar because He advised rebellion against taxation. They coated their clever bait with unctuous flattery, a device which is still common among those who would mislead God's people. Observe that even though they did not believe what they said, they did speak the truth about the Lord Jesus (v. 16).

His answer is complete, final, and unanswerable. He has that kind of an answer to every honest question of man. In this case He clearly states that one who lives under an established government, enjoying its protection, using its money in trade, and so forth, is to be loyal to every proper obligation to that government. God and the things of God must come first, but a right attitude toward God will reveal itself in a proper attitude toward government.

Why does not some nation realize that the answer to destructive political and social theories is—win the destructive agitator to a living faith in Christ and he will become your strongest force for God and country. The real answer to communism (and every other anti-Americanism) is Christ.

III. A Right Attitude Toward Our Neighbor (vv. 34-40).

We have talked a good deal of late about being good neighbors, and certainly everyone should do everything possible to encourage the good neighbor policy in his own community and throughout the earth. But why does not the good neighbor policy work? Read the parallel passage in Luke and you will see how man tries to dodge his responsibility. See Luke 10:29 and observe the answer of Jesus in Luke 10:30-37.

A good neighbor is not one who is seeking some kind of "You favor me and I'll favor you" arrangement. He does not see the barriers of race, creed, or color. He is ready to help anyone, anywhere, at any cost. It is recognized that only the man who loves God with all his heart will be able thus to love his neighbor as himself.

The world does not so much need treatises on neighborliness as the winning of men and women to faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, and thus to a whole-hearted love for God which will inevitably express itself in a love for his neighbor. When this comes to pass, we shall have true neighborliness in the world. Let us send the gospel to all nations, that they may become first of all good Christians, then good citizens, and good neighbors.

Color Movies of Yellowstone to be Viewed by Group

Expected to be a real treat to the members of the Antioch Woman's club is the program, "A Moving Picture Trip to Yellowstone," that will be presented by Mrs. H. K. Linzell at a meeting Monday afternoon, Feb. 19, in the home of Mrs. C. L. Kuttel.

Mrs. Linzell, who is president of the Long Lake Woman's club, has traveled extensively and is described as "a most interesting personality." Her travel talk will take the place of a book review she was originally scheduled to present.

"We consider ourselves most fortunate in being able to bring Mrs. Linzell here for our club," Mrs. Thomas F. Hunt, president of the Antioch organization, comments.

Mrs. Linzell's travel talks are reported to be delightful. Her journeys have taken her from the south of Mexico to North Bay in Canada, and have provided her with a fund of amusing reminiscences.

The motion pictures she will present for the Antioch club are expected to do special justice to the beauty of Yellowstone park because of their being in color. They were taken by Mr. and Mrs. Linzell during a western trip they made last summer.

Assisting Mrs. Kuttel on the hostess committee for the afternoon are Mmes. Elmer Brook, Mary Smart, Howard Smith and H. Latta.

Winter Sports.....

in the lakes region also received a generous share of attention.

Many of the resort owners are already making plans for special winter attractions, such as ice boating, for next year, for it is felt that interest in cold weather sports will be even keener by then.

Skiing at Wilmet
It is not surprising that 1,300 people should drive the 50 miles from Chicago to enjoy skiing at Wilmet Hills during the week-end, but it is almost a case of "carrying coals to Newcastle" when a resident of La-Crosse, Wis., comes south to Wilmet to participate in the sport.

This particular skier, whose name has not been revealed, is reported to have made 11 visits so far this season to the Wilmet Hills slopes.

His reason for making the round trip of about 400 miles, coming from a region itself plentifully supplied with hills and snow, is that he can find so many different kinds of slopes, all close together, most conveniently at Wilmet.

Walter Stopa, who developed the ski slide, has announced the installation of a second ski tow that is 500 feet long. With this tow in operation, in addition to the one already in use, the area for down-hill slides has been increased to nearly three times what was previously available.

Parking space on the Pagel farm, where the slide is located, was in demand during the week-end. The hills have been owned by the Pagel family for three generations. They were purchased by Fred Pagel, Sr., in 1869, together with the rest of his farm. No practical use for the hills has been developed until the present time.

HI-HO CLUB SEES "GONE WITH THE WIND"

Members of the Hi-Ho club, instead of playing pinochle last week, traveled to Waukegan to witness the 4-hour super-production of "Gone With the Wind." After the movie, the group enjoyed dinner and then left for home, still exclaiming over the exploits of Scarlett O'Hara, and also the exploits of Clara, who (half-way to Waukegan) remembered that she forgot to remember to bring the tickets! This, of course, necessitating a return trip, much to the chagrin of Marie, who needed that extra time to pick out wallpaper—or did she?—Anyway, was my face red! Mrs. Anderson went in place of Mrs. L. P. Yopp, who was unable to go because of illness.

BIRTHDAY IS CELEBRATED

Miss Martha Smith had a birthday Sunday, and her sister, Elsie, celebrated along with Lincoln on Monday, but their friends put the two days together, and surprised the girls with a big party on Sunday. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Jim Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sandhamel of Evanston, Mr. and Mrs. William Dunworth, Channel Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jacques, Grass Lake, and Mrs. Jacques of Chicago.

P. T. A. MEETING ON FRIDAY AFTERNOON

The Parent-Teacher association will hold its next regular meeting at the school, Friday afternoon, Feb. 16. All members are urged to attend. Mrs. W. C. Petty will be the principal speaker. The P. T. A. is sponsoring a card and bunco party next Friday, Feb. 23, and tickets may be obtained from members of the organization.

MRS. BOB HARDMAN HOSTESS TO CLUB

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kempf were host and hostess to a number of friends Saturday evening. A delicious turkey supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith and Peter Jacques visited Mr. and Mrs. C. Stokes in Chicago on Tuesday.

We are glad to announce that most of the folks who were ill with influenza and bad colds have fully recovered. A few cases of whooping cough have been reported, but most of the children are back at school again.

Mrs. Ida Shumneson has returned home, after spending several weeks in Florida and Chicago.

Mrs. Wichmann spent Monday in Chicago, visiting relatives.

The poultryman who produces average products must be satisfied with average prices.

The primitive hen laid 12 to 15 eggs in a year. Today, hens are laying 150-200 and some birds 300 eggs or more in 12 months.

Good Breeding, Sound Management, Careful Sanitation, and Good Feeding have made this possible.

Puriflavin is the richest known commercial source of vitamin G (flavin).

Every poultry raiser should look beyond the price on the bag or ton when he purchases feed for his laying flock, his breeder flock, his baby chicks, or his growing pullets.

With poultry, the following are influenced by breeding—Health, Body Size, Body Shape, Production, Egg Size and Shape, Shell Color, Broodiness, Fertility, Hatchability, Livability, Growth, Persistency of Production, Color of Feather.

In describing Puriflavin, Dr. H. J. Smith, Director of Research for Purina Mills, says, "Puriflavin contains more vitamin G than all other known commercial sources and is not subject to the extreme variation in content of this valuable vitamin, so characteristic of other sources."

Because the mineral content of poultry rations affects egg production, bone development, growth and health, leading feed manufacturers exercise extreme care to insure having the proper mineral balance in their feeds. Nothing should be added to them unless that is the manufacturer's recommendation.

Poultry rations feed out so far that five dollars extra per ton for a good feed means little when the results are recorded.

The surest test for worms is to "post" a bird. The intestines should be cut out and split from end to end. If large roundworms are present, they can be seen inside the intestine. Roundworms vary in length from one to six inches and are white or yellowish-white in color.

To treat for large roundworms (ascarids) withhold food from adult birds eight hours before and at least two hours after dosing with Purina Tetsules. If Tetsules are to be given at night birds should not be fed after noon. Sick or diseased birds, hens in high production, or birds under two months old should not be dosed. For birds weighing less than six pounds, one c.c. Tetsule will do an efficient job of worming; for birds weighing more than six pounds, the dosage is two one-c.c. Tetsules.

NEW CHICKEN BOOK IS WIDELY ACCLAIMED BY POULTRY RAISERS

A new, pocket size "hard-cover" textbook on chickens is receiving the approbation of the poultry world. Known as the Purina Poultry Book, its ninety-six pages contain a simple and complete way of raising poultry that's practical. Written around a four-point program of breeding, management, sanitation and feeding as fundamentals of poultry success, the Purina Poultry book enlarges upon these vital factors and shows how they can and do work together to get results with chickens.

A brief review of the subjects discussed show the spirit, plan and scope of the book—"Round Out Your Poultry Income" . . . "Things That Help Make a Profit" . . . "Breeding—The Foundation of Your Stock" . . . "Care and Management Programs for Chicks and Pullets" . . . "Layers—Handling for High Production" . . . "Nutrition—What It Means to Poultry Raisers" . . . "Points on Feeding Layers" . . . "Producing Eggs for Hatching" . . . "Eggs—Useful Information About Them" . . . "Meat—Added Income from Broilers" . . . "Making Money With Turkeys" . . . "Turning Ducks Into Money" . . . "Feeding Game Birds" . . . "Sanitation—Disease and Parasite Control."

This new, hard-cover Purina Poultry Textbook can be had for fifteen cents with the purchase of Purina Poultry Chow from any local feed store "with the Checkerboard sign."

FARROWING WEIGHT OF PIGS VITAL FACTOR IN DETERMINING PROFIT OR LOSS IN HOG RAISING OPERATIONS

Experiments show that an extra pound average pig weight at birth can mean up to five times as many pigs alive at weaning time—and heavier pigs, too!

Does the farrowing weight of pigs have any effect upon the number and size of pigs at weaning time?

"Decidedly!" is the answer that comes from the Purina Experimental Farm at Gray Summit, Mo. "The weight of pigs on farrowing day can mean the difference between profit and loss on an entire pork making operation," emphasizes E. H. Hamel, Manager of the Purina Hog Department, who cites some convincing records from Purina Research and Purdue University to verify his statement.

"In 1938," Hamel says, "84% of the pigs weaned at the Purina Experimental Farm weighed 2½ lbs. or over at birth. But of pigs weighing under 2½ lbs. when farrowed, only 54% were alive and thriving at weaning time. In other words, we weaned 30% more pigs weighing 2½ lbs. and over at birth than pigs weighing under 2½ lbs. at birth."

Proven by Purdue

"These results are in direct accord with experiments reported by Purdue University in Bulletin No. 413—page 40," says Hamel. "Purdue records of 784 spring farrowings show that the percentage of 2½ pound pigs weaned was 5 times greater than the percentage of 1½ pound pigs weaned. And the pigs that weighed 2½ lbs. at birth averaged 8 pounds more at weaning time than the pigs with a 1½ lb. birth weight. That extra pound at birth meant 5 times as many pigs per litter at weaning time—and heavier pigs, too!"

"This naturally brings up two important questions," Hamel observes. "Why do some pigs run heavier at birth than others? Is there any way by which birth weight can be controlled? The feeding of the sow during gestation is the answer to both questions. Other things being equal, the way the sow is fed from breeding to farrowing has a tremendous influence on the weight of pigs at birth."

Purina Experimental Farm results, as well as the records of many hog raisers, give conclusive proof of the importance of feed in determining both the farrowing and weaning weight of pigs, according to Hamel. "In the spring of 1939, at the Purina Farm, 62 sows farrowed over 600 pigs which averaged slightly over 2½ lbs. apiece at birth," he says. These sows also weaned an average of 9.4 pigs per litter. In 1938, 61 Purina Farm sows weaned an average of 9.33 pigs.

Three Extra Pigs

"Comparing these successive records of 9.33 pigs and 9.4 pigs to the litter with the U. S. average of 6.32 pigs reported December 1, 1938, by the Department of Agriculture, shows better than 3 extra pigs weaned per litter in favor of the Purina fed sows. These Purina Farm brood sows all got the same gestation and nursing ration, Sow and Pig Chow, from breeding to weaning, along with corn. This is the same ration we are now packing in checkerboard bags, obtainable from any local elevator or feed store handling Purina feeds."

A FULL TIME JOB FOR BOSSY!

The huge amount of grain, hay and water which a cow has to handle and convert during each 10 months lactation emphasizes her need of proper care and feeding.

She never clamors for shorter working time. She doesn't know a thing about 40 hour or five day weeks. The dairy cow is on the job 24 hours a day—every day. Yet her hardest working period does not occur when she's letting down her milk. Her real work is done during the previous twelve hours when she is chewing and digesting the feed required to make that milk, according to Dan Van Pelt, Purina Mills' Dairy Specialist.

"Realizing the tremendous effort and energy so quietly put forth by the cow in preparation for each milking period, it's no wonder that cows frequently show signs of wear and tear after 10 months of milking," says Van Pelt. "To make 10,000 lbs. of milk, for example, a cow in one year must handle and convert four and one-half tons of hay, one and one-half tons of grain concentrates, and 6,000 gallons of water!"

A Large Order

"That's obviously a large order. It should emphasize the magnitude of a cow's milk-making job as well as the vital necessity of proper feeding and care to keep her producing at a consistent and profitable rate," Van Pelt says. "Since milk is made of feed, the closest attention to the selection of hay, grain, and concentrate, both as to kind and quality, is absolutely necessary to maintain the cow's manufacturing plant and her output on a paying basis."

"In reference to hay quality, the legumes—alfalfa, clover, soybean and cowpea hays—are much higher in protein and minerals, which make them better milk producers than grass hays. It pays to grow them wherever possible, for they do a better feeding job and cut grain feed costs too. Hay should be fed to cows on the basis of 2 lbs. per hundred pounds body weight, without silage. When silage is fed, 1 lb. of hay per 100 lbs. body weight is sufficient."

Balance the Grain

When it comes to choosing the proper grain ration for cows my recommendation, first of all, is that the cow owner raise all the home grown grains he can," says Van Pelt. "Then he should balance them for higher production by adding just enough of a mixed commercial concentrate—in our opinion this should be Purina Cow Chow—to do for him a maximum milking job and at the same time maintain the health of his herd."

Daily Pound of Fat Is Money Making Minimum for Cows

Get Rid of Poor Milkers and Give Good Cows a Chance, Expert Urges.

On today's market, a dairy farmer's opportunity to make money is with a herd averaging one pound of fat a day per cow, or 300 lbs. per cow per year, according to Meade Summers, Manager of the Dairy Department of Purina Mills.

"This is in accord with the judgment of leading dairy authorities," says Summers. "Quoting just one—the College of Agriculture of the University of Missouri says in Dairy Bulletin 405, May, 1939: 'Cows producing 300 lbs. or more of butterfat will, in addition to paying for their feed, return on an average more than $40.00 per cow to cover other costs and a reasonable profit.'"

"Other authoritative sources concur that a pound of fat a day, or its equivalent in milk is a money making yield. On the average for Jerseys, a pound of fat equals 20 lbs. of milk daily or 6,000 lbs. a year; for Guernseys 22 lbs. or 6,500 lbs. annually; for mixed breeds 27 lbs. a day or a yearly production level of 8,000 lbs.; for Holsteins, 30 lbs. of milk a day or 9,000 lbs. a year.

Cash in the Culls

"Since the daily pound of fat is the money making minimum, according to today's best authority and knowledge, every dairyman who is in business to make money should 'take stock' on his cows to see if they are measuring up," advises Summers. "If a man is selling butterfat, or condensory milk, it will pay him to 'cash in' to the butcher any cow that can't make at least a pound of fat a day. Then by following a proven milk making plan like our Purina Program, he should strive to get all the fat he can from the remaining money makers."

"The dairyman selling fluid milk should figure out how much he can sell at top price—not surplus. Then he should cull his herd to that base and give his good cows a chance to make money," Summers says.

Winter Egg Slump Often Caused By Low Feed Intake

Provide More Light and Encourage Hens to Eat More, Advises Poultry Authority.

"They must eat or they won't lay" may sound like a trite admonition for producing winter eggs. Yet the fact remains that the secret of keeping hens at top production throughout the winter depends very much on getting enough feed into the birds every day, emphasizes C. S. Johnson, manager of the Purina Poultry Department. "Getting enough feed into the birds actually means increasing the daily feed consumption of each hen," says Johnson. "For as the days get shorter, steps must be taken to step up the actual feed intake so that every bird will be sure of getting all she needs to make eggs and stay in good egg-making condition."

There are some very definite and practical things a poultryman can do to increase feed consumption for more winter eggs, according to Johnson.

Checker Feeding Method

"My first recommendation would be to use a concentrated, compressed feed like Layena Checkers several times a day, right on top of the laying mash—all the Checkers the birds will clean up in 15 minutes at a time. Since Checkers are laying mash and grain in highly concentrated form, Checker feeding is bound to achieve greater feed intake. "The second step in the winter egg producing plan is to provide a 12 to 13 hour feeding day through the use of electric lights. Obviously the birds must have plenty of light and have it long enough each day to give them sufficient eating time."

tured leg, and the use of the Antioch squad's set of traction splints made as painless and safe as possible his removal to the hospital for medical care.

The second call, also to Wilmot, came on Sunday afternoon, he said, when members of the Kenosha squad were here for a rehearsal for the demonstration. On this occasion Gatley and Lieut. Arthur LaCrosse of the Kenosha squad supervised the care of a young woman who had sustained a broken arm in a fall.

In both cases, Gatley pointed out, the work of the Antioch rescue squad men won high praise from attending physicians. X-ray examinations of the youth with the broken leg revealed, he said, that the broken bone had been held in place so accurately in traction splints that it was unnecessary for the victim to undergo the ordeal of having it "set."

Panorama of First Aid

Watched with keen interest by the audience, which included community leaders, physicians, and firemen and policemen from other cities as well as from the vicinity of Antioch, was the smoothly-unrolled panorama of first aid and life-saving methods put on. Accident injuries of various types, the care of burns, and the resuscitation of victims of suffocation or shock were among the first aid examples presented.

Chief Gatley gave his services as general commander of the demonstration, with Lieut. LaCrosse directing the tactics. Members of the Antioch fire department assisted the squads in the demonstrations.

Members of the squads were introduced by Lieut. John Horan of the Antioch fire department.

Dr. D. N. Deering of the Antioch Lions' club, which held a dinner in the High School cafeteria Monday evening and afterward attended the demonstration in a body in place of holding its regular meeting, assisted in a portion of the program. This feature, in which he supervised the changing from a smaller to a large apparatus during the giving of oxygen to a patient, was also illustrative of the manner in which rescue work is carried on in co-operation with physicians.

The Antioch High School orchestra under the direction of Hans Von Holwede presented musical selections at the opening and close of the program.

Afterward, a number of the distinguished visitors and persons who aided in the demonstrations, and their wives, were guests of the Antioch rescue squad at a social gathering and informal supper held in the Masonic temple dining room. About 30 were present.

Seek Truck Here

Attracting a great deal of interest was the rescue truck brought here by the Kenosha men especially for the demonstration.

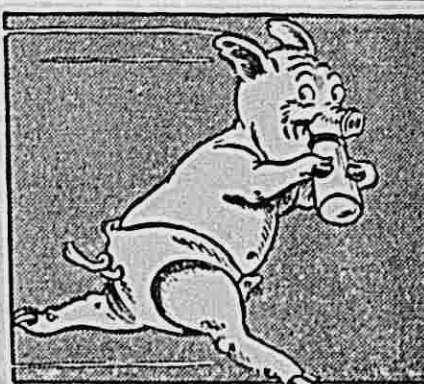

Antioch is at present campaigning to give its squad a truck, having become convinced of its potential value through work done in the lakes region by the Kenosha rescue workers.

Many public-spirited citizens have already made donations for this purpose. Chief Stearns is acting as chairman of the truck fund committee.

True Tact

PEOPLE sometimes seem to feel that tact means insincerity and dishonesty, or that it is an unimportant quality. Refusing to cultivate it, they sometimes cause others hurt feelings or embarrassment, which might have been avoided.

A dictionary defines tact as "nice discernment of what is appropriate to do or say in dealing with others; peculiar ability to deal with others without giving offense, or so as to win good will, especially in difficult situations. . . delicate and sympathetic perception, especially of what is fit, graceful, or considerate under given circumstances." A certain surface politeness may be simply the result of intelligent control and good breeding, but the love that is unflinching and truly graceful and considerate at all times is based on the understanding of God.

Tact is consideration, thoughtfulness of others, and it is closely related to loving-kindness. It appreciates the viewpoint of the other person and tries to apply the Golden Rule (Matthew 7:12), "Whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them."

Tact may sometimes be shown in simply refusing to do or say something which, if said or done, would accomplish no good. It may be shown in speaking an encouraging word to one who is facing a difficult situation. It may be evidenced in an interesting observation which will turn someone's attention from himself and put him at his ease. It avoids unnecessary controversy, chooses silence rather than unconstructive criticism, encourages the troubled, commends honest effort.

How true! did Jesus' life exemplify the prophet's word (Isaiah 42:1, 3): "Behold my servant. . . a bruised reed shall he not break, and the smoking flax shall he not quench." The "bruised reed," that which has already been hurt, even if by its own fault, may sometimes be won back to wisdom and courage, activity and strength, by gentle kindness. There blunt condemnation of the fault would fail. The "smoking flax"—that mentality which is but dimly alight needs tender and wise encouragement. One of the lovely qualities that aids our work with others is gracefulness. We may pray in the words of a loved hymn (Christian Science Hymnal, No. 88): "Gracious Spirit, dwell with me: I myself would gracious be."

Tact does not tell all it knows; it minds its own business. It is greatly needed in all organization work. The business official or a committee or church worker who uses tactful methods in dealing with others, succeeds in inspiring all to better service than does the inconsiderate or the unwise outspoken individual, whose intentions may be praiseworthy. People occasionally believe that they are tactless, and that there is nothing they can do about it but regret the fact. There is no reality in crude or brusque or thoughtless words or deeds. . .

One should claim for himself the ability to express every good and strong and lovely characteristic which reflects God. Sometimes it takes much work and prayer to demonstrate them. It may take patience and persistence and steadfast effort to do so, but as impatience, thoughtlessness, selfishness, and narrowness of vision are replaced by their opposites, man is God's likeness becomes ever clearer.

Every earnest person wants his thinking and acting to bless others. He can always be sure that they will if he is reflecting God. Not to condone evil but not to condemn person; not to think of self but to think of others; not to be afraid, repressed, or self-conscious, but sympathetically alert to the problems of others and quick to help to meet them—earnest desire such as this will be expressed with the graciousness of love.

As we turn to Jesus' life and words for examples, we see what tact he used in illustrating his teaching by parables on subjects with which his particular audience was especially familiar. . .

In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy states (pp. 476, 477): "Jesus beheld in Science the perfect man, who appeared to him where sinning mortal man appears to mortals. In this perfect man the Saviour saw God's own likeness, and this correct view of man healed the sick." With such a view of man, one could not be other than loving, gracious, and considerate. And with these qualities in consciousness, one's tender wisdom, thoughtful consideration, and intelligent helpfulness will be inspired by true Christliness. —The Christian Science Monitor.

HOG HEALTH IS AN IMPORTANT AID TO HOG PROFITS

There's money in feeding hogs. There's no money in feeding parasite or diseased hogs, according to E. H. Hamel, manager of the Hog Department of Purina Mills.

"Clean pens and pastures pay well in holding down disease and parasites and helping to promote profitable, rapid growth," says Hamel, who is a recognized authority on the subject and offers some definite suggestions on hog sanitation.

"A few days before farrowing time, the farrowing pen should be cleaned thoroughly," he advises. "All filth, old litter and manure on the floor should be scraped out. Then it is advisable to disinfect the house thoroughly with a solution of 1/2 pint of Purina Cre-so-fec in a 10-quart pail of water.

"For bedding, clean, dry straw should be used—not too much nor too long—to cover the floor of the farrowing pen. Little pigs won't get tangled up in finely chopped wheat straw. The use of dusty bedding should be avoided—it causes pigs to cough.

"A third essential step is to scrub all watering and feeding equipment well and disinfect with a solution of 1/2 pint of Purina Cre-so-fec to a 10-quart pail of water," Hamel recommends.

"Then the preparation of the sow for farrowing should be given careful attention. Bring her into the pen several days in advance. She should be washed completely with soap and water and her udder disinfected with the Cre-so-fec solution (1/2 pint to a 10-quart bucket of water) to remove the worm eggs and disease germs which may be present to harm the young pigs.

"If the weather permits, the sow and her pigs should be hauled to a pasture about 10 days or two weeks after farrowing. This pasture should not have been recently used for hogs. However, if a man must use the same field year after year, this ground should be plowed in the fall and sowed to rape, clover, rye, or alfalfa.

Feeding is an important factor, too!

"Speaking of feeding, which plays just as important a part in hog raising as sanitation, there are some definite recommendations I would like to make," says Hamel. "Plenty of sow's milk counts for more than anything else in the early growth and development of young pigs. When the sow has full udders the suckling pigs come right along. But if the udders are not full of milk—it's an altogether different pig story.

"To give sows the things they need to make lots of milk is definitely a job for feed," he says. "Her feed must contain balanced milk-making ingredients to keep her udders filled. Purina experiments show that a special nursing ration is needed for this purpose. Out of many feeding tests at our Experimental Farm has been developed Purina Sow and Pig Chow. It's made of 12 different ingredients, including several sources of animal and vegetable proteins and the new vitamin G (flavin) ingredient—Puri-Flave. It is built to take care of the sow's requirements during the nursing period; also to provide for the needs of the young pigs until they attain 50 lbs. weight.

"Vaccination of pigs for hog cholera at 5 to 6 weeks of age is recommended, if at all possible.

Worm pigs when eight weeks old

"When the pigs are about 8 weeks old, they should be wormed," says Hamel. "For large roundworms (ascaris), the use of Purina Pigules is recommended. These are administered with a Purina water gun and jaw spreader. The cost of worming is less than two pounds of pork per pig—and worm-free hogs have a much better chance to grow and to well."

Spotlighted on the Washington Scene:

POLITICS:

In the background since congress reconvened, presidential politics stole the show again when the Democratic national committee selected Chicago as its convention site. Republicans, who scheduled their meeting later in the hope that Democrats would set a convention date, were outfoxed. This resulted in minor dissension among C. O. P. leaders, who debated whether to set a date immediately or keep stalling.

Since third-termists dominated the Democratic meeting, observers guessed there would be a strong fight to renominate President Roosevelt in the city where he was first chosen in 1932.

As Chicago became a political focal point, so did Illinois. There were signs that both President Roosevelt and Vice President Garner would be entered in the April 9 preference primary, while in New York the G. O. P. backers of young Tom Dewey challenged Ohio's Sen. Bob Taft and other Republican hopefuls to a contest in the same primary.

UN-AMERICANISM:

Ended was the episode in which Michigan's Rep. Frank Hook charged that Martin ("un-Americanism") Dies was working in cahoots with William Pelley, leader of the anti-Semitic "Silver Shirts." When Pelley surrendered and admitted that letters used as evidence were forged, Hook apologized on the house floor. If this had been a campaign to smear irrepressible

Martin Dies, it had only served to strengthen him and the cause of his "ism" committee. Next day FBI rounded up 12 persons charged with recruiting Americans for service with the Communist forces in Spain.

CONGRESS:

The house continued lopping millions from President Roosevelt's budget, and the senate continued restoring them. The senate voted down a $1,000,000 cut in Civil Aeronautics authority funds, bringing the independent offices bill back to $1,139,693,528. But it was still 55 millions under budget estimate, providing a good start on the 460 millions congress hopes to save by way of avoiding new defense taxes. Meanwhile the house slashed away at the state-justice-commerce department appropriations bill.

LABOR:

John Lewis' C. I. O., which has been striking at the New Deal lately, turned a partial about-face by defending the national labor relations act against A. F. of L.-inspired changes. Before the house NLRB committee, C. I. O.'s Philip Murray read a statement in which Lewis charged "reactionary and anti-labor" corporations are dictating A. F. of L.'s proposed amendments. At Miami, A. F. of L.'s executive board was also getting hostile toward the New Deal, urging encouragement of private enterprise and charging the administration with trying to place labor "under its thumb." The entire labor-government picture was pretty complicated.

EUROPE:

Rumors

While the western front remained quiet, and while Finland continued making a shambles out of Russia's vaunted armies, two diametrically opposed offensives were taking shape—one for war, the other for peace.

Peace Drive. Berlin denied it, but reports persisted that Nazidom would offer the allies a settlement via the League of Nations' economic committee at The Hague. Terms: (1) no reparations; (2) return of ex-German colonies; (3) Nazi retention of Sudetenland and the Polish corridor; (4) an Austrian plebiscite, neutrally managed; (5) restoration of Czech, Polish and Slovak states.

If the Reich's denials were sincere, observers wondered why Herr Hitler tried so hard to minimize his relations with Moscow, arch-foe of the democracies. No military pact exists, said the Reich, nor will Germany help Russia fight the Finns. Peace gossip only increased when Berlin called home its envoys to Finland and Russia. Would Germany try to settle this war? If so, was it a prelude to peace in the west?

War Drive. Overnight the Balkan states mobilized their armies to full strength, members of the Little Entente backing Rumania against the territorial demands of Hungary. Italy was seen joining them. Across

NEW TROUBLE SPOT
But will the allies attack first?

the Black sea Turkey concentrated troops on the Russian frontier, Iran and Afghanistan doing likewise. One explanation was that Russia planned a drive into this British sphere-of-influence (see map). Another explanation was that the allies planned a deliberate attack on Russian oil wells in the Caucasus region, thereby drawing Soviet troops from the beleaguered Finnish front and cutting off Nazi petroleum sources. Observers asked themselves whether this was the reason French authorities had raided the Russian commercial office in Paris, deliberately inviting Soviet reprisals. Also, was it the reason Turkey, a British-French ally, unceremoniously seized the German-owned ship yard in the Bosphorus?

The Wars

In the West, France reported the quietest period since the war began almost six months ago, and Nazi raids on North sea shipping were slackened perceptibly.

In the North, Finnish troops repulsed one Soviet attack after another, most activity being confined to the area around Lake Ladoga. Finnish military observers estimated that reckless use of manpower had cost the Reds 20,000 dead and wounded in a single week.

Nevertheless, increasing rhythm of Soviet attacks was wearing the Finns down, a situation that disturbed the allies increasingly. Following a meeting of the British-French war council, it was announced concrete aid would be rushed at once. Prime Minister Chamberlain told the house of commons as much, while France kept relaying Italian warplanes which Germany refused to let cross the Reich.

How Italy is cooperating with the Finns was revealed in Rome by Finnish Minister Eero Jaernfelt, who reported 5,000 Italian volunteers have been turned down because no visas were available. But hundreds have been granted, too.

WOMEN

in the news . . .

At Paris, the duchess of Windsor was credited with inventing a new knitted "trench mitten" with zipper attachment to free a soldier's trigger finger.

In the frozen Klondike campaigned Mrs. Norman Black, one of Canada's two women parliament members, seeking votes in the forthcoming special election.

At Baltimore, Mrs. Robert A. Taft announced she would hit the campaign stump trail for her senator husband, who hopes to win the G. O. P. presidential nomination.

At New York, Merry Fahrney, patent medicine heiress, shed her fourth husband.

THE DUCHESS

NEUTRALITY:

Aid to Finland

Early this month a Gallup poll showed the majority of U. S. citizens (58 per cent) favor a non-military loan to Finland. Same day as the survey was released, the senate began consideration of a bill to double the Export-Import bank's capital, permitting an additional $20,000,000 non-military loan to the Finns (they already have $10,000,000).

The same Gallup poll showed 61 per cent of the nation opposes a loan to Finland for purchasing war supplies. Day after the survey was published, Michigan's Prentiss Brown proposed in the senate that all of Finland's $5,891,000 war debt payment should be made available for munitions purchases. There was a good chance the Brown measure might pass.

(The senate did adopt 65 to 3 a resolution asking the securities and exchange commission to expedite registration of any government bonds which Finland may try to sell private U. S. investors. Prompting factor was Secretary of State Cordell Hull's revelation that Russia had violated two pledges of its recognition agreement with the U. S.: (1) Permitting Communist interference with U. S. affairs; (2) failing to safeguard U. S. citizens' rights in Russia. Still, a congressional effort to break relations with the Soviet failed.)

Meanwhile the state department was rubbing noses with Britain's smooth-working Ambassador Lord Lothian, recipient of many a fiery protest in recent weeks. In exchange for better treatment of U. S. ships at British contraband ports, the two governments decided to keep future quarrels quiet. One reason: Recent strong U. S. notes to London have stirred up too much American opinion against Britain, to Adolf Hitler's benefit.

JAPAN:

One Way Out

As Tokyo's war in China entered its thirty-first month, northern forces reported they had entered distant Ningxia province for the first time.

In the south, armies were locked in bitter battle near Wingsun, Kwangsi province. Two more discouraging signs for Japan were (1) a naval spokesman's warning that Chinese planes may soon begin raiding Japan, and (2) the report that 300 Jap troops were killed when Chinese artillery sank a transport on the Yangtze river.

Mostly, however, Tokyo's troubles were with the western powers. Immediate source of trouble was a combined U. S.-French protest against Jap bombings of the Kunming-Hanoi railway in southwestern China. Both protests were rejected, and the Japanese parliament found itself seriously considering two drastic steps to avoid future protests. First, it was suggested Japan should junk the nine-power treaty guaranteeing Chinese territorial integrity. Second, Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita admitted Japan is asking U. S. citizens to leave China, probably as a threat to make the U. S. renew its expired trade treaty.

AGRICULTURE:

Cotton for Stamps

Having successfully disposed of surplus foods through the stamp plan, Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace announced this system will be adopted to help solve his No. 1 farm problem, cotton. Exports having decreased since Britain stopped taking U. S. surpluses under the barter arrangement, cotton will be offered under the stamp plan experimentally within a few weeks. Plan: Relief clients purchasing $1 worth of cotton goods at retail stores will be given $1 worth of cotton stamps free.

Other farm news:

Q The weather bureau announced frost damage to truck crops in southern states from January's unexpected cold snap had been overestimated, although losses were heavy all the way from Florida to Texas.

Q U. S. farmers watched with interest and mixed emotions as the house ways and means committee approved a bill renewing the administration's authority to negotiate reciprocal trade agreements. Officially the American farm bureau approved: National Grange dissented.

Lake Villa School Notes

The boys' basket ball team of the Lake Villa school has improved greatly since the boys have been practicing in the new school gym. They have had games with Oak Grove, Antioch, Libertyville and Fox Lake.

In spite of the flu epidemic in many of the surrounding communities, the attendance in our school has remained quite normal.

The February meeting of the Lake Villa P. T. A. will be next Monday, Feb. 19.

Achievement tests are being given to all the children in the school to determine how they rank with children in other schools. The tests have all been finished in the lower grades, but have not been completed in the middle and upper grades.

The usual February programs and parties are being planned. State's Attorney Charles Mason will speak on "Lincoln" at a program in the school gym on Wednesday evening, Feb. 14. The children are learning patriotic poems and songs. Valentine parties are also being held in each room.

How the wind is blowing . . .

BONDS—At Chicago, Barcus, Kindred & Company surveyed the municipal bond field and found 1939 had brought a drop of $364,454,000 (or 24 per cent) under 1929 in total bonds issued. Among reasons: (1) Pay-as-you-go financing; (2) diminishing birth rate, which requires fewer schools.

RATION—Britain announced that meat would be rationed effective March 11. Already rationed are butter, sugar, ham and bacon.

RISKS—Because Europe's war has steered clear of Pan-American waters, marine underwriters have lowered war risk insurance rates in that area.

Rotnour Players to Give "Ole from Montana" on Stage This Evening

"Ole From Montana" will be the J. B. Rotnour stage offering this evening at the Crystal theater. Next Thursday evening the company plans to present "Poor Relation."

A "surprise ending" and a touch of pathos helped to underline the comedy in "Scrambled Love," last Thursday evening's presentation.

The play has to do with two couples—a middle-aged husband and wife, about to separate because financial success seems to have destroyed their affection for each other, and a young man and girl about to embark on a life of, if not crime, at least decidedly "shady" confidence deals.

A mysterious "stranger" who shows up at the country house where the four others find themselves gathered together in a decidedly "scrambled" plot, sets all to rights with uncanny wisdom. And it is he who figures in the "surprise finish."

The parts were ably taken, and the action, although slow in getting started at first, gathered momentum with the progress of the play. There were one or two particularly effective bits of staging, including a reconciliation scene between the older couple, and the final scene.

Miss Margaret Peachy, an attractive, capable dancer, made her debut with the company in a vaudeville specialty and won a generous round of applause.

Rey Scott Lecture Is Awaited with Interest

Much interest attends the coming appearance of Rey Scott, newsreel cameraman and writer, as a speaker here March 4, under the auspices of the Antioch Business and Professional Women's club. His talk will be given in the high school auditorium, at 8 o'clock. Tickets may be secured from members of the sponsoring organization, or at the door.

Among the motion pictures to be used by Scott in his talk will be scenes of the road that has supplied fighting China with two-thirds of its imports since Japan blockaded the coastal ports.

This road, which was cut when the Japanese captured Nanking, led from French Indo-China through the Kwangsi and Kweichow provinces to Chungking. Scenes from some of the pictures Scott will show here were published in Life magazine for Dec. 11, 1939. Scenes along an alternative route, from Haiphong to Kunning to Chungking, had never been photographed before Scott took them for Life.

Scott is also noted as a member of the expedition that brought out the last panda from the interior of China.

His pictures came near to being confiscated by the British censors at Hong Kong.

Farm Bureau Advances of Year Noted

Supply Co. Pays Dividends; Dairy, Poultry Gains Are Encouraged

A total of $40,000 in patronage dividends was paid out by the Lake-Cook Farm Supply company during the past year, according to a report given by Alfred D. Smith, manager, at the twenty-fifth annual meeting of the Lake County Farm Bureau Thursday in the Grayslake school. Since 1929, when the company was organized, a total of $272,000 has been paid to Farm Bureau members.

H. C. Gilkerson, farm adviser, reported that during the past year he made 658 visits on 395 farms. There were 1813 office calls, 2634 telephone calls, 3320 individual letters written, 56 news articles and 88 circular letters sent out. There are seven boys' 4-H clubs in the county, with a total enrollment of 135, and these 135 boys had 156 projects. There were 11 live stock judging teams developed and 3 demonstration teams. There is a Rural Youth organization with 71 young people taking part in the program. There were 9 training schools, 6 demonstration meetings, 4 achievement days, one 4-H camp, together with 177 other demonstration meetings with a total attendance of 15,000. There were 82 days spent in the county by extension specialists conducting work along marketing, farm accounts, farm planning, dairy, beef cattle, corn, landscape gardening, farm home beautification, small fruits, agricultural engineering, insects, soil conservation, and 4-H club work.

A third Dairy Herd Improvement association has been organized in Lake county, it was reported. Ten percent of the cows in the county are now included in the scope of these associations. Norman Stangebye, Gordon Jones and L. D. Carlson are the testers.

Kamlade Is Speaker
Dr. W. K. Kamlade of the University of Illinois agricultural college told of the manner in which agricultural extension service has been developed during the past 26 years. R. W. Blackburn, secretary of the American Farm Bureau federation and former president of the California Farm Bureau federation, spoke on "The Farmer's Problems and Position Today."

During the various reports it was revealed that Lake county has co-operated with 12 others in northeastern Illinois in setting up an organization at the Yorkville Poultry and Egg auction, where eggs are graded and sold.

Experimental corn strip tests were conducted on the George Rossier farm and another test was conducted in co-operation with the University of Illinois on the Lewis Mills farm.

During the past year the farm adviser has spent a good deal of time working with people from 7 northeastern counties in establishing an Artificial Breeding association and setting up the by-laws and working rules of the association. To date, 160 Holstein breeders have signed up 1209 Holstein cows and 35 Guernsey breeders have signed up 335 Guernsey cows. H. C. Gilkerson, J. H. Brook, farm adviser in McHenry county and Prof. C. H. Rhodes have been working with the board of trustees to see that good bulls are secured and that adequate housing facilities are obtained.

Directors of Association
The present board of directors of the Lake County Farm Bureau includes: Earl Kane, Eb Harris, Harry Matthews, L. A. Huebsch, D. H. Minto, A. J. Stahl, George Vose, C. W. Wray, Bert Edwards, George Brainerd, C. Snetinger, Al Simonson, Otto Metzger, A. G. Wegener, E. E. Elsbury and George Berghorn.

L. A. Huebsch of Mundelein has served as treasurer for 25 years.

There are 29 charter members still in the association. They are: H. C. Ames, Gorm Anderson, J. E. Barrett, L. G. Bennett & Sons, George Brainerd, W. E. Brooks, Chesney Farm, Cold Spring Farm, Willard Darrell, C. J. Edie, Bert Edwards, E. E. Elsbury, Taylor Elison, John Hart, L. A. Huebsch, R. G. Hughes, Charles Hans, E. Harris, H. A. Howland & son, J. J. Luebbe, Mr. and Mrs. George T. McCullough, D. H. Minto, C. F. Richards, W. H. Ritzenthaler, Richard Reimers, A. P. Stahl, C. C. Shanks, E. L. Underwood, G. R. White.

Libertyville School Tax Increase Approved

By a fairly close vote, 301-273, Libertyville township voters approved an increase in the high school tax rate, Saturday afternoon in a special election. The high school board is now empowered to raise the rate from the present $1.38 per $100 to not more than $2 per $100, the state-imposed maximum.

The Illinois state tax commission recently approved an upward revision of Libertyville property valuation, in response to an application from voters in the township.

These measures were proposed when funds for operation of the high school began to run short of the amount needed.

The Observer

Valentine hearts beat as true 40 and 50 years ago as they do today, Mrs. John J. Doyle of Channel Lake tells us. And the girls of those days were just as thrilled over receiving romantic greetings from their beaux February 14 as the modern miss.

In example thereof, she loans us this pretty little poem, sent to her by a real "tall, dark and handsome" long ago, when she was Catherine Solon, living in Chicago:

"Three little leaves of Irish green
United on one stem
On Irish soil are often seen,
They form a magic gem.
One leaf is Truth and Valor one,
The other one is Love,
And these three magic leaves are sent
By dewdrops from above.
To thee I give the triple leaf,
An emblem of my love,
And only hope the modest gift
May not unwelcome prove.
A flower of more pretentious worth
Could not more plainly tell
The triple faith I have in thee
Than the shamrock of the dell."

A leaf of real shamrock was attached to the pages bearing the poem. The touching plea, however, evidently did not prove quite successful for, we learned from Mrs. Doyle, the sender was not Mr. Doyle, but "the man she didn't marry."

But—would we like to hazard a guess, or even a bet—was little Miss Catherine Solon, back in those days, partial to young gentlemen with a touch of say—Irish poetry—or Irish sentiment—in their makeup?

It's always pleasant to hear from folks who are far away, as well as those near at hand.

From Brookfield, Mo., comes this letter written by "Dude" Harwood, contractor and builder:

"The Antioch News:
"Just lately I read an article in the Lumberman's Magazine about the toboggan slide you folks of Antioch built. I spent 10 years at Antioch and Channel Lake, so this article interested me."

"If you will advise me what your paper is a year, will mail check to pay for same, as I often get a yearning for news from the town. Would like to be remembered through your news columns to old friends around there."

For friends who might like to send their regards to Harwood, we add his address, 315 East Prairie street, Brookfield, Mo.

Member 'way back when a girl was considered immodest if she didn't wear corsets? We see by the ads that the darn things are being worn again . . . they say.

Anybody missed a horse lately? Stuart Otis, of Route 59A and St. Mary's road near Libertyville, is looking for the owner of one that wandered into a pasture on his farm several weeks ago and has been boarding there ever since.

If you see a certain Antioch youth going around with his fingers crossed think nothing of it. It's just that he seems to have what you might call a gift for being on hand when minor accidents happen to the cars belonging to his friends. He was out with a party of young men one evening when their car overturned. There were no serious injuries. Another time he was riding with a friend when their automobile skidded and slid into a ditch. No casualties, but more fun! Still, another time, he and a friend were driving up over a hill when—surprise!—they were confronted by a car traveling along the wrong side of the road. (The driver's attention was distracted by a romantic couple in a third automobile parked beside the right-of-way.) Damages, $20. And there was another time . . . but the tale would grow too long. Nobody ever seems to get hurt—much—in these little incidents, but if you've got a new paint job on your bus, we're warning you.

With all the things that are being done nowadays "to help the farmer," we can't resist the temptation to do our bit by borrowing this helpful hint for dairymen from an old file of the Antioch News:

The Rev. L. William Hones, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Roscoe, N. U., who is widely known as the double of President (Teddy) Roosevelt, issues a weekly paper called the Roscoe-Rockland Review, in which he gives some advice to dairymen regarding the production of sanitary milk.

"About a year ago," says the minister, "we offered Dr. Darlington some excellent advice on the subject of handling milk in the city. He did not act on it, which was unwise as it was unkind. We now address ourselves to the dairymen."

The minister says, among other things:

"Break the cows of the filthy habit of wiping their nose with her tongue. It is shocking to note the dexterity the beast has acquired in shooting her tongue up into her nostrils and act as if she enjoyed it. We forbid the children attempting it. Why should a mere cow be allowed to do it? The cure of the habit is simple. Place a bit of bitter aloes in each nostril three times a day until the cow ceases her unlovely task. When bossy has learned to appreciate the tender uplifting work, place a handkerchief within easy reach of the cow. Saturate with a little salt water until bossy becomes accustomed to feel the humanizing effect of linen. Then substitute co-logne. These handkerchiefs should be of good linen, a yard square, and change three times a day. This part of the method will be acquired by the cow anywhere from three months to three years, according to the intelligence of the cow and the patience of the dairymen."

No reference seems to have been made to the intelligence of the dairymen or the patience of the cow. . . . We also like that touch about the cologne.
